Overview

The Porodo vacuseal MagSafe magnetic mount is a mobile phone mount featuring patented designs, a smooth surface, magnetic suction, and versatility for various scenarios. It can be positioned at any angle. One side uses an electrically driven vacuum suction cup to adhere to smooth surfaces, combined with a vacuum pump and an intelligent pressure monitoring system that automatically detects and adjusts for high or low pressure. The other side is equipped with powerful neodymium magnets, designed for attachment to mobile phones with magnetic coils, magnetic pads, and iron surfaces. This two-sided suction phone holder offers flexible and secure placement.
